Gold rush in EPE science room

Elk Point Elementary School Grade 3 student Tino Braga (left) captured the interest of many Science Fair visitors with his Science Fair display on gold panning, with tiny flakes of gold showing up among the sand in the fascinating miniature gold pans.

Scientists display discoveries

Elk Point Elementary School proudly displayed a total of 23 interesting and informative projects exhibited by individuals and partnerships from Grades 3 to 6 at last week's annual Science Fair, with 15 of these projects, created by 21 students, receiving Award of Excellence designation.

All six Grade 3 projects received Awards of Excellence. Kobe Warawa and Avery Warawa displayed detailed information on igneous rocks. Jadey Capjack and Sydnee Crawford explored the solar system and had a unique addition to their display, with an edible model in the form of a cake. Kendra Porcina and Ethan Hampson won theirs with a display on the creation of crystal, while Tino Braga attracted a fascinated crowd with his display on gold panning. Taylor Swedgan showed her extensive knowledge of horses, while Keith Stuparyk had a working model of a volcano.

Grade 4 students earned four Awards of Excellence. Slader Hardcastle and Zachary Tchir created electrical power from lemons. Rachel Zacharuk and Micah Urquhart made a bright showing with "What's Your Favourite Colour?" while Mykaela Verenka answered the question, "Sink or Float?" and Alexa Johnson provided an eye-catching look at "Honeybees."

Other Grade 4 entrants were Brooklyn Gochko and Taylor Ford, with "Rainbows," Bailey Dion and Kendra Kowalchuk with "Edible Glass," Wyatt Krider and David Kim with a mysteriously "Bouncy Egg," Hailey Bykowsky with "Pinocchio's Arm" and Dakota Havener with a piano model labeled "Music, the 'key' to soul."

Car show street fair may need overhaul

By VICKI BROOKER
Staff Writer

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce started their March meeting with a thorough rundown on the previous year's income and expenses, and determined that while the Canada Day pancake breakfast yielded a tidy profit and Christmas Extravaganza paid its way, last year's street fair, held in conjunction with the Elk Point Auto Club's annual Show and Shine, cost almost $2,000 more than it brought in, and "is not a money maker," treasurer Geoff Hyslop reported.

While president Debra McQuinn noted that the day's income might well have been higher if such activities as the bounce castles had not been cut short by rain, she agreed with the membership that the chamber's portion of the event needs a major overhaul to bring costs more in line with revenue.

Planning for the coming tourism season is going ahead, with no information available by last week's meeting date regarding the possible discontinuation of the Summer Temporary Employment Program grant. Application has been made for the Canada Summer Jobs grant, which would fund one worker for the Visitor Information EcoCentre, and the chamber is prepared to go with one employee if that application is approved and if the STEP is not available. (Word has now been received of STEP's suspension for 2013.)

McQuinn is currently working on getting quotes for a timed door lock and automatically functioning fixtures for the EcoCentre's wheelchair accessible outdoor access washroom. The lock would regulate the hours the facility would be available to Iron Horse

Trail users and other visitors.

Lots sold

Town Coun. Dwayne Yaremkevich told the chamber two more lots have been sold in the new Industrial Park area, with interest also shown in the next row of lots. Water and sewer are in for the new residential subdivision, with curb, gutter and paving scheduled for spring.

Coun. Yaremkevich also agreed to take to council a request from the chamber that upcoming events be posted on the town's website well in advance of their occurrence. McQuinn also suggested that lots available for sale be posted on the website for the convenience of businesses and individuals interested in locating in Elk Point.

Police pursuit ends with charges

By STAFF WRITERS

During the afternoon of March 4, RCMP attempted to stop a vehicle being operated in Onion Lake First Nation by an individual known to Elk Point and Onion Lake RCMP.

"The suspect was known to be subject to 21 outstanding warrants for various serious weapons offences and failing to comply orders," says an Elk Point RCMP press release. An attempt to stop the suspect was made, but the suspect drove through a roadblock and ran over a spike belt, causing one of the vehicle's tires to deflate.

The suspect lead police on a one-hour pursuit from Onion

Lake, and ending in Frog Lake First Nations. The suspect vehicle's speed varied from 60 km/hour to 130 km/hour during the pursuit with RCMP and passed through Vermilion River and the M.D. of Bonnyville.

The suspect got out of the vehicle in Frog Lake and attempted to flee on foot.

"A brief foot pursuit ended with the suspect being arrested without further incident," says the release. A female passenger was also arrested and charged with failing to comply and possession of a controlled substance.

The 27-year-old driver was charged with dangerous driving, flight from police, possession of proceeds of crime, driving while disqualified, and three counts of possession of ammunition while prohibited. He is also facing several charges stemming from outstanding warrants in the judicial jurisdictions of St. Paul and Lloydminster.

The suspect is considered "a high risk to public safety" and police pursuits are taken very seriously, says the release. "A supervisor was in charge of coordinating and assessing risks throughout the pursuit."

One more week until spring!

Health care update

Sharon Smith brought an update from the recently formed committee that is focusing on attracting more nurses to Elk Point. She brought along a copy of a letter Bonnyville Mayor Ernie Isley recently sent to Wendy Harrison, Vice President of Rural North East Operations for Alberta Health Services, in which Mayor Isley stated he would "strongly emphasize that it is critical that the Elk Point Health Care Centre be kept in continued full operation," as recent cutbacks in Elk Point put additional strain on already overloaded facilities in Bonnyville and St. Paul.

Smith noted that the Town of Elk Point and County of St. Paul are working together to provide incentives such as rent subsidies for registered nurses willing to come to Elk Point. She stated that when asked to provide contract nurses until nurses could be hired to fill vacant positions, "they said absolutely not."

The committee plans to attend a March 21 meeting of the Lakeland Communities Health Advisory Council in St. Paul to express their concerns with the situation.

A delegation from

Frog Lake, who attended the meeting on a different matter, asked that information on the committee's plans be sent to the First Nations' chief and council, as Elk Point Health Care Centre is vital to the wellbeing of their community and its residents.

Presentation tabled

A presentation on bringing in foreign workers was tabled for a second time, however the contact information for a certified immigration practitioner was distributed, and McQuinn said that if enough interest was shown, the chamber could call a special meeting to hear from the practitioner. Alberta Hub also has scheduled webinars on the topic for March 8 and 19. McQuinn hopes to have the EcoEducation Room at the EcoCentre equipped with the appropriate technology to offer these and other webinars in the near future.

Hockey

Stan Olson, Myles Quinney and Felix Quinney visited the meeting in search of contacts for the A. G. Ross Arena, where they hope to rent ice next season for games and practices to enable Frog Lake to have both a SaskAlta League men's team and a Junior B team. The chamber was happy to provide the contact information, and recalled that Elk Point had enjoyed many years of SaskAlta action in the past.

New leadership for Elk Point Elks Lodge

By VICKI BROOKER
Staff Writer

Elk Point BPO Elks Lodge No. 460 is under new leadership, with the installation of Randy Ballas as the new Exalted Ruler. Ballas takes over the office from Bernadette Godlein, who now becomes the Immediate Past Exalted Ruler.

Ballas thanked Godlein for her enthusiasm and leadership, and said that his motto for the coming year is, "Let's have a good time and accomplish something."

Two of the three new chair officers were also installed last Tuesday, with Don Pilisko becoming Leading Knight and Lorne Young the Loyal Knight. Geoff Hoyle, who will be installed as Lecturing Knight at the lodge's next meeting, was unable to be present last week, as was Ed Pankiw, who will be installed as the lodge's new Inner Guard.

Remaining in the positions they held last year are secretary-treasurer Lawrence Pidluzny, finance committee members Bill Schuhmacher, Ron Fraess and Walter Jendruk, chaplain Glen Hammond, historian Allan Berg and membership committee chairman Mike Chubey. Jendruk also remains as Esquire, Pilisko as management committee chairman and Pidluzny as publicity director.

The new officers were installed by Godlein in her role as District Deputy, with the assistance of Chubey, who brought the new officers forward to receive their collars, and Pidluzny, who installed Godlein as Past Exalted Ruler.

- The field of synthetic biology combines science and engineering. It relies on the great advances in genetics and nanotechnology (dealing with the manipulation of atoms and molecules). The far-ranging goal of synthetic biology is to be able to use a patient's cells to grow a new kidney or other organs not functioning well.
- March is National Kidney Month in Canada. We are a decade or more away from growing new kidneys for people but for now we can still sign up for organ donation on our death. There are many more people waiting for a new kidney than there are donors. Sign up to be an organ donor today.
- Increasingly more Canadians are living 100 years or more. People get to be this old through the usual good nutrition and regular exercise. But other conditions also contribute to longevity: being married, living in the same geographical area most of your life; getting a good night's sleep (at least 8 hours) and not smoking.
- Louis Pasteur, in 1862, first used heat to prevent beer and wine from going sour. This process, called pasteurization, is used today to keep bacterial levels low. In Canada, all milk intended for consumption must be pasteurized. The milk is exposed to heat of at least 72° for at least 16 seconds. It is then cooled to 4° to ensure most harmful bacteria are destroyed.

Stay safe!

It's National Farm Safety Week, and we'd like to remind our rural residents that we'd rather have them as readers than as the subjects for stories of tragedy.

Almost every occupation has its hazards, whether one waits tables, drills oilwells, drives school buses or digs ditches, and farming is far from exempt from the potential for accidents.

Cattle and other livestock are unpredictable, especially cows at calving time, and are not above attacking those who come to help them. Ice on creeks, lakes and ditches is nearing the point when it becomes a huge hazard to both livestock and the humans who water them from these sources.

This year's national theme is on the safe use of farm vehicles and machinery, but the other aspects of danger definitely exist. Please take care, and stay safe.

Way Back When...

First breakfast, first fax, third term

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF MARCH 12 IN...

1988

Westmin Resources announced plans to drill another 30 heavy oil wells in 1988 and up to 105 more during the coming five years. Heavy Oil vice president Wayne Watmough announced at the Elk Point Surface Rights Association annual meeting. Elk Point Chamber of Commerce agreed to take over organization and preparation of the July 1 pancake breakfast, which had previously been done by a small group of merchants.

1993

Elk Point chamber of commerce executive took a new approach, letting their fingers do the walking in their 1993 membership drive, as they solicited memberships by fax for the first time. Tanya Stone and Christine Seniuk were off to Ottawa as part of the Encounters With Canada program for high school students.

1998

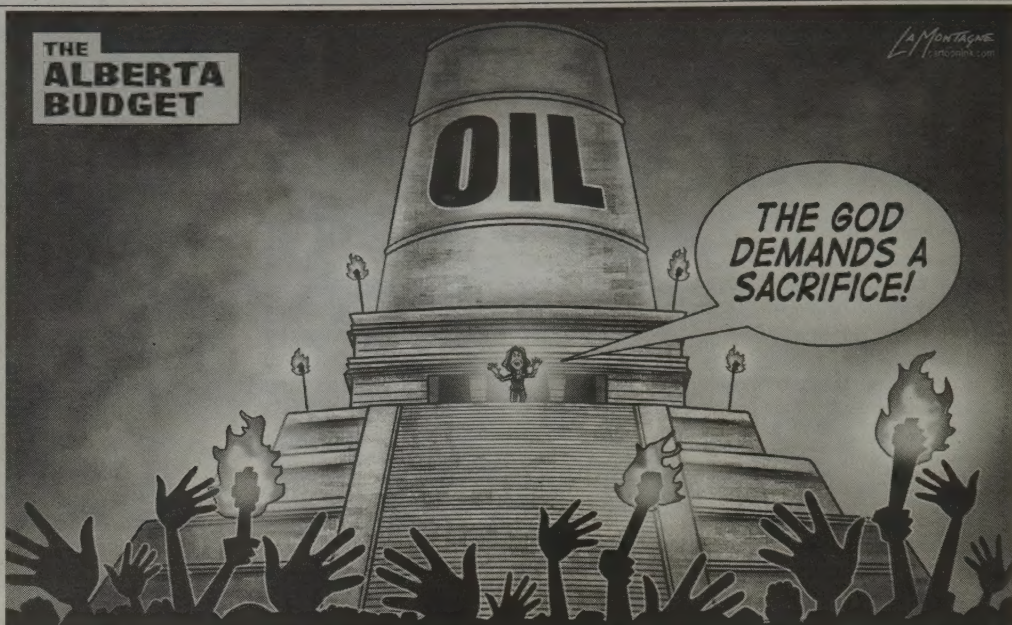

Fire claimed a 25,000 square foot barn and 2,600 hogs at the farm of Glenn and Verona Lea Flanders, with firemen able to save a smaller barn containing 300 feeder hogs. Officials of Pan Canadian Petroleum assured Mayor Ed Buck that the company planned to remain active in the area, despite moving their field office out of town.

2003

The appointment of Lakeland Regional Health Authority board chair Ernie Isley and board members John Pilipchuk and Allan Buck to the board of the new Health Region No. 7 was good news to the chamber of commerce. Elk Point figure skater Daylan Hoffman and her pairs partner brought back Novice Pairs bronze from the Canada Winter Games in New Brunswick.

2008

A resounding victory swept Ray Danyluk and his fellow Progressive Conservatives to a 72-seat victory in the March 3 election, with Danyluk earning 6,526 votes to give him a third term in the legislature. Elk Point Skating Club delighted the audience with their World of Disney presentation, with former club member Helen Ramful and her pairs partner as special guest skaters.

GUEST COLUMN

A bit of heaven

This coming Sunday, March 17 is known as St. Patrick's Day. It is a day to wear green and think about the "Irish". One question that could be asked is: "How did Ireland get its name?"

When I started doing some research on how Ireland got its name, I ran into trouble. I later learned that there is little written history of Ireland. The Celts had an oral tradition and the stories of kings, chieftains and heroes were passed from generation to generation by bards, whose jobs (and perhaps lives) were on the line if they failed to sufficiently praise and glorify their masters. Therefore, much of the "history" became influenced by political pressure and therefore inaccurate. When the annalists eventually came to put this history on paper, they had only the old traditional stories to use as raw material.

From the background of telling stories, there is no accuracy of how Ireland got its name. But there is a song called: "A Little Bit of Heaven" which is one story of how Ireland got its name.

"Tis a dear old land of leprechauns and wondrous wishing wells,

And nowhere else on God's green earth have they such lakes and dells!

No wonder that the Angels loved its shamrock-bordered shore,

'Tis a little bit of heaven, and I love it more and more.

Have you ever heard the story of how Ireland got its name?

I'll tell you so you'll understand from whence old Ireland came;

No wonder that we're proud of that dear land across the sea,

For here's the way me dear old mother told the tale to me:

Sure a little bit of heaven fell from out the sky one day,

And nestled on the ocean in a spot so far away;

And when the angels found it, sure it looked so sweet and fair,

They said, "Suppose we leave it, for it looks so peaceful there."

So they sprinkled it with stardust just to make the shamrocks grow, Tis the only place you'll find them, no matter where you go;

*Then they dotted it with silver, to make its lakes so grand,
And when they had it finished, sure they called it Ireland."*

Just in case you might have a few more questions about Ireland, let me give you a brief chronology of Irish history. 200 AD - Beginning of High Kingship at Tara, Meath; 432 AD - St. Patrick comes as a Christian missionary; 795 AD - Vikings attack the Irish coast; 940-1014 AD - Reign of High King, Brian Boru, killed at Battle of Clontarf; 1166-75 - Rory O'Connor, last native High King of Ireland; 1170 - Arrival of the Normans; 1258 - Gallowglasses (mercenary soldiers) come to Ulster from Scotland; 1366 - Statutes of Kilkenny enacted to prevent Anglo-Normans integrating with Irish by using their language, laws or customs; 1460 - Irish parliamentary independence declared; 1536 - Anglo-Irish parliament acknowledges Henry VIII of England as King of Ireland and head of the Church of Ireland; 1594 - Beginning of Hugh O'Neill, Earl of Tyrone's, nine-year war against the English; 1608-10 - British colony founded in Ulster; 1641 - Rising, which begins in Ulster, spreads; 1649-50 - Cromwellians devastate Ireland; 1660 - Restoration of Charles II; 1689 - James II loses the English throne to his nephew and son-in-law, William of Orange; 1791 - Society of United Irishmen founded; 1800 - Act of Union, Ireland loses its independent parliament; 1845-7 - The Great Famine. Population falls from eight millions to six-and-a-half millions; 1918-21 - Anglo-Irish war; 1920 - Six counties in Ulster vote themselves out; 1922 - Departure of British; Irish government takes over; and in 1949 - Repeal of External Relations Act, Ireland leaves Commonwealth and becomes a Republic.

From all this brief history, I now understand why the Irish tell stories. With that in mind, let me close with an Irish blessing as you celebrate St. Patrick's Day this coming Sunday. "May the Blessings of Each Day, Be the Blessings You Need Most."

All dressed up as dinner theatre opens

By Vicki Brooker
Staff Writer

Oh, no! The lack of an 'O' made a huge difference to the characters in Elk Point Community Choir and Friends' 2013 dinner theatre presentation, which hit the stage of the Elk Point Arts and Leisure Centre for the first two shows this weekend.

'Way Out West ... In A Dress' chronicles the adventures of an out-of-work actor who finds out he is the only beneficiary of his great-aunt's estate, and now, according to her semi-unreadable chicken-scratch will, now owns the Lucky Lady Saloon in Lucky Lady, Nevada.

Clarence Rawlins, played by dinner theatre veteran Shaun Sheplaw, decides to take along the rest of his theatre troupe, veteran performers John Sieben, as Roger Gaines, and Mabel Gottenbos, as Heide Gray, and first timers Hayley Vinge and Jesse Theriault as starlets Nail Clipper and Bobbie Pinz, to help out in the saloon, so they pool their meager resources and take the long train ride west.

Clarence and Roger check out the saloon and meet the local crowd – dance hall darlings Caitlin Tazzer as the feisty Jessica James, Mickayla Chamberland as Barbara Seville, Barb Bury, escaped from the orchestra pit to become Carrie O'Key, and Olivia Rose Leaf as Eileen Dover, piano player Melody Plunkett (Dorothy Wuola), saloonkeeper Colt Revolver Jr. (Levi Jennings), bartender Phillip Glass (Bryce Osinchuk) and the townsfolk, short-of-work undertaker Smitty Plantem (Randy Wuola), barber Bob Burr (Roland Kinney), rancher Rhoda Steed (Patricia Lotsberg) and her cowhand Russell Grubb (Ryan Johnsen), judge Levy Fines (Justin Evenshen) and banker Bill Holder (John Gottenbos).

All is going well until Clarence meets with his great-aunt's lawyer, Will Reader (Lawrence Pidluzny, who one scene earlier, was the train conductor) and finds out that it's not the saloon he's inherited, it's the beauty salon next door. Still, it's a roof over their heads, so he and the lawyer go to check it out, while Roger goes to fetch the ladies and all their worldly possessions from the train station. Arriving at the salon, they take the news optimistically, with Heide and the girls discovering a goldmine of beauty products and offering to put them to use with their skills at manicures, hair washing and colouring, and suggest the fellows put their experience at styling theatre wigs to use on some live heads of hair.

"But the barber said no self-respecting man would cut women's hair," they lament, before a collective brainwave has them dressed in women's costumes and adorned with the most elaborate wigs from their costume trunks for their new business venture, as the lovely Lady Claire Rawl and the exotic French stylist, Madame Rogaine.

The new hairdressers in town are a hit with the girls from the saloon next door, and even the mayor's wife, Sadie Blessing (Doris Osinchuk) and the extremely reluctant Rhoda Steed are soon decked with new 'dos. The only problems are that Clarence and Roger are sweet on Melanie and Carrie... and that Colt is planning to blow up the bank with the help of an outlaw gang, or marry Lady Claire to get the salon, so he could expand his business.

The high energy is packed with rootin', tootin', gun-shootin' action, singing, dancing, romance, suspense over whether Colt's turned-down proposal will lead in a blown-up bank vault and a mystery that lasts right until the final curtain! And that, friends, you'll have to check out for yourselves.

This year's dinner theatre is a true team effort. Along with producer Barb Bury, director and choreographer Dixie Coleman and assistant choreographer Kloe Daniels, a large number of talented people have been working hard behind the scenes. Thunder and lightning, or at least sound and lighting for the show, is overseen by what the program lists as "non-paid hired hands" Udo Mueller, Alan Kostyniuk and Martin Dion, 'tails, manes 'n' hoof dressing' (makeup) by Ellen Seward, costume design and sewing by the versatile Mabel Gottenbos, stage sets by 'barn raiser' Walter Zukowsky and assistants John Gottenbos, John Sieben and Pam Kowalchuk. George Sanders was in charge of the 'water trough', Irene Krochmal marshaled the 'eatin' room', Lillian Ewasiuk and Frances Moneta provided chow for rehearsals, Kristyn and John Sieben designed the t-shirts and programs, with Velma Hudson and program consultant, and Sheila Boisvert was in charge of promotion and tickets.

A girl's got to do what a girl's got to do... even if he isn't a girl. Roger Gaines, alias Madame Rogaine, gives Sadie Blessing (Doris Osinchuk) a stylish new hairdo while Nell Clipper (Hayley Vinge) practices her manicuring skills and Bobbie Pinz (Jesse Theriault) launders the hair of reluctant rancher Rhoda Steed (Patricia Lotsberg) on opening day at the Lucky Lady Salon.

Shorter than swords, but almost as risky, the Lucky Lady Salon's rattail combs were put to another use than styling hair as Colt Revolver Jr. and Clarence Rawlins duel it out. Roger Gaines and Carrie O'Key do a little coaching in the background.

Science Fair

Three Awards of Excellence went to the Grade 5s. Rhianna Bjorkman and Alyssa Adkins caught the attention of many viewers with "Trick Your Eyes," while Katelyn Boratynec demonstrated a working telegraph and Ashley Kowalchuk demonstrated black light in a display that because of its nature was hidden behind a dark cloth. Tennille Ballas and Kaycee Wruth also entered the competition, with a display on density and volume.

Grade 6 Awards of Excellence went to Brooke Krider, who explored which kitchen products would corrode fishhooks the most, and to Sam Urquhart, who showed how to make an acid and base indicator.

Tammy Roberts and Kayley Quinney-Cardinal, who demonstrated the bubble potential of various dish soaps, and Hunter Nelson and Fawn Ockerman, with "How far do rubber bands go?" also exhibited in the Grade 6 category.

The Science Fair was not the only attraction at EPE last Tuesday, with the school library overflowing with customers for the annual Book Fair and a long lineup at the nearby Soccer Registration table.

Award winners

Atom Avalanche host six-team tourney

Today's story is dedicated to the arrival of our newest family member, our granddaughter Vienna Bethenny Colbourne, born last Monday, March 4, at 9.30 a.m. in Bonnyville weighing 8 lbs 3 oz.

One last hurrah for the Atom A team this past weekend when they hosted a six-team, tier one tournament; the teams travelling from as far away as Fort McMurray and Lac La Biche; as well as a few of our local teams, Bonnyville, Lloydminster and St. Paul.

Starting off early Saturday morning, the Avalanche faced off against the eventual "A" side winners, the Lac La Biche Clippers, losing this one. Connor "Coast to Coast" Lychak with two goals, the smooth silent "Sam I Am" Henderson with a single. Set up man "Lightning Liam Ludlage" with two helpers, team captain Dylan "the Destroyer" Ference, the rugged right winger rookie Jaden "Jet Stream" Van Maarion and defence woman "Raging Paige" Henderson also with assists. I should mention how impressive "Raging Paige" has been since being moved to defence. This girl has tremendous wheels for back checking, is strong on the puck, and most of all won't be intimidated or pushed around by anyone.

The second game in the afternoon the Avalanche lost again, to Bonnyville, but this was a closer one. The Avalanche actually outshot the Pontiacs but their goalie was hot and was one of the main reasons that this team would eventually end up playing Lac La Biche in the final. Great team work in this one, five different goal scorers starting with the "Destroyer", sniper Devon "Naz" Nazarchuk, Charlie "Little Angel" Rogal, "Coast to Coast" and "Lightning Liam". Evan "Not Even" Ockerman, who plays a very steady game on the blue line and is rarely caught out of position with an assist.

Sunday morning was a mus-win game against Lloydminster to make it to the B finals, the Avalanche would respond, turning it up a notch, they came out flying and pulled off a huge 8 to 4 win. Team captain Dylan "the Destroyer" Ference sailing his battleship right into enemy territory, sending in two missiles right on target; after he penetrated the fortress with his heavy artillery, the ground troops would follow up, "Coast to Coast" "cruising end to end with two; defen-teman "Little Angel" jumped up into the play adding two too; this guy is fun to watch when he comes to blocking shots and using his feet to move the puck. His steady stay at home brother "Hammering Hank" Rogal and the left wing sniper "Naz" both on the board with a single. Three assists for the little spark plug "Lightning Liam" who seems to have a sixth sense when it comes to setting guys up, not only does he see the ice well and know where the other team mates are all the time, but he's just like the Energizer bunny, he takes a licking and keeps on ticking, rarely does he ever come up for air.

In the B Side Final Sunday afternoon, it appeared the Avalanche seemed to have burned up all their energy just to get there, the tank was running on E for most of the game, switching over to reserve and giving it one last burst with the goalie out, they lost the final one. Back at the scales, winching down his load between the posts, goalie Colton "B Train" Van Maarion was still pulling a little more weight than a legal load, but that was nothing new, he's been doing it all year and getting away with it!

Great job by the team manager, all the coaching staff and all the parents for the entertaining weekend, the final tournament of the year was a dandy to watch. And yes, we were all remembering Stompin' Tom Connors with what hockey fans consider his biggest hit ever, "The Hockey Song."

And speaking of watching, did you happen to watch Mark "the Marksman" Letestu score the shoot out winner last Tuesday night. There's the reason we nicknamed him the "Marksman" way back when he was in peeewee hockey here in Elk Point. Beauty goal; but everyone wants to know why; "Marksman" did it have to be against the Oilers? Better than my Leafs; we had our own problem to deal with, the nasty snap shot in the shoot out from Sid the Kid last Saturday night!!!!

Here's some news from the north: Sheena Pankiw reports that the Lakeland Bantam Jaguars (Female Bantam B) is mainly made up of Bonnyville and Cold Lake girls, except for two Elk Point girls, Taylor Pankiw and Jewel Poitras. This girls' team is undefeated in their league so far, beating teams from Vermilion, Viking, Lloydminster, North Battleford and Meadow Lake. They will be playing in last series of league playoff games against Meadow Lake on the weekend of March 22.

NEW MEDEVAC BASE OPENS

As of March 15, all medevac flights from northern Alberta will land at Edmonton International Airport.

Patients will continue to have access to rapid, reliable, and safe emergency care.

Eighty per cent of medevac flights are patient transfers, not emergencies. Just five patients a month are truly time sensitive, where a delay in getting to a hospital could affect their outcome; for those patients, STARS helicopter can fly them directly to hospital.

We've already flown 62 patients from northern Alberta to Edmonton International Airport, without any impact to their health.

Alberta Health Services knows this is a personal issue to many, and understands how critical this service is. When you need emergency care, we will be there.

Elk Point 4-H members on winners' list at district

RYAN McCracken
Review Contributor

The St. Paul 4-H Club held the District Communication Day at the St. Paul Regional High School Fine Arts Theatre for local youths to showcase their public speaking abilities.

"I feel like the day went really well. I'm very impressed with the quality of speakers that are coming out of all of the clubs," said event planner Susan Dubrule, who is also the principal at Racette Junior High School. She adds that 4-H students are easy to notice in the classroom.

"I know from the junior high level I can sort of see those students who have some 4-H background and aren't scared to step up in the classroom to speak or even to show leadership."

The event saw 22 young speakers take to the stage for speeches, impromptu or presentations.

Kristina Kotowich placed first in the junior speech category with a speech titled 'My special friend.' Haley Dechaine's 'Provincial 4-H Beef Heifer Show' speech earned her a second place finish, while Maria Bilodeau placed third with her speech, 'A wild idea.'

Spencer Graling's speech, 'The big question' earned him a first place finish in the intermediate group, while Madison Trotter placed second with her speech on 'Canada's arctic' and Mary Dechaine came third with a speech titled

'Hope mission.'

Graling said he is excited to take his speaking to the next level, as the winner of each category received an invitation to the Regional Speak-off on March 9 in Vermilion.

"(My speech) was based on the question of what you want to be when you grow up," said Graling, who hopes to be an entrepreneur, and feels strengthening his public speaking is a good way to help achieve that goal.

"It helps you speak in front of a group and think on the spot."

In the senior group, Shaina Vallee won first place with a speech titled 'The next step.' Elsa Friztler picked up second place with her speech, '4-H, What it's really about,' while Kennedy Austin earned a third place finish with her speech titled 'Hurry hard.'

In the junior presentations, Dustin Dubrule impressed the judges with his verbal and visual demonstration of 'The fundamentals of basketball,' while Sophie Pasitney showed the audience 'How to make a T-shirt scarf,' which earned her second place. Third place saw Brooke and Madison Krider team up with a presentation addressing the issue of 'Bullying.'

Bradley Dubrule earned first place in the intermediate presentations with his discussion of 'Survival' that addressed ways to prepare for being lost in the wilderness. Morgan Baker picked up second place with her presentation 'The little signs,' that pointed out all the subtle ways that horses communicate, while Ashley Bristow's 'Dance' presentation earned her third place.

Dubrule said she was thrilled to see both her sons earn first place accolades at the event.

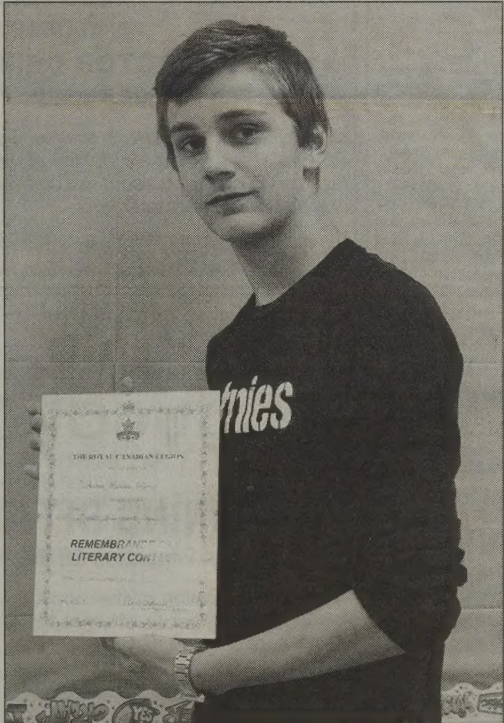

"It's very exciting," she said. "It's nice to know that what I learned as a 4-H member from many leaders ago I can pass on to not only my own children but to the students in my school or in my club. It's a good feeling."

The Regional Speak-Off was held at 9 a.m. on March 9 in Vermilion at the Lakeland College Mead Building.

Hockey highlights

The Jaguars also went to two tournaments this season, in Ponoka and Vermilion. These girls played hard and won the A Finals at both of these tournaments.

The Jaguars are now preparing for Provincials, which they are hosting in Cold Lake and as the Zone 2 champions, beating out Fort McMurray in only two games out of a three-game series. Their first provincial game will be held right after opening ceremonies at 4:30 p.m. in the Energy Center on Thursday, March 14. Jaguar game times are 5:15 p.m. on Thursday, 11:45 a.m. and 6:15 p.m. on Friday and 4:00 p.m. on Saturday, all games will be at the Energy Center. Everyone is welcome to join and cheer on the Lakeland Jaguars team. These girls have worked hard to get where they are, and have had one amazing season!

And now for the K.A.Campbell quote of the week: "It's not necessarily the amount of time you spend at practice that counts; it's what you put into the practice." Last week's answer to: "I'm exhausted trying to stay healthy." - Steve Yzerman. Have a sports scoop? Now you can email them to sportshound007@hotmail.com

Lakeland Bantam Jaguars female Bantam B hockey team, which is hosting the Provincials tournament this weekend, boasts two players from the Elk Point area, Jewel Poitras and Taylor Pankiw.
